CTN SERVES UP "EARTH CAFÉ"

Environmental Program Premieres Tuesday on County Television Network

County Television Network (CTN) today announced it will begin airing the award-winning program, "Earth Café," beginning Tuesday, Oct. 26. This program, covering different aspects of the environment each week, will air Tuesdays and Thursdays at 5 p.m. on CTN – Cox Communications, Channel 17, Time-Warner, Channel 22, and Daniels Cablevision, Channels 51/66.

"Earth Café" is a fast-paced, half-hour show that features an entertaining smorgasbord of information, issues, facts and photography. The program tackles national and worldwide environmental concerns. Experts discuss solutions for hazardous waste, water and air pollution, and global warming. Amusing segments feature the EcoKid as she explores life around her. The emphasis always focuses on encouraging viewers to "reduce, reuse, recycle."

Local environmental information covered in the program is available from the San Diego County Department of Environmental Health, toll free (800) 253-9933.

Earth Café is produced by the Environmental Services Division, Department of Environmental Health, City & County of Denver.

For information on Earth Café, contact CTN at (619) 595-4600 or check out the Web site at: www.co.san-diego.ca.us/ctn.

CTN is available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, although programming is not available in all areas at all times. CTN is funded with cable television franchise fees. Cable subscribers who are unable to get CTN in their cable service area are encouraged to contact their local cable company to request that they add CTN to their channel selection.
